“Bayview se sukses oor die afgelope bykans 30 jaar kan hoofsaaklik aan my eggenote, Doreen, se uitstekende administratiewe vaardighede toegeskryf word,” vertel Jan Barnard, voormalige eienaar saam met Doreen van Bayview Discount Furnishers (in die volksmond net as Bayview bekend). “Sover my kennis strek, is die besigheid een van die drie oudste besighede in Gansbaai,” het Jan die Gans-Berg Nuus meegedeel. “Die ander twee besighede, wat saam met my in 1996/97 begin het, is Fish Fever van Michiel Kemp en Jo-Signs van wyle Johan Pieterse.”

Die Barnard-egpaar het aanvanklik van Windhoek in Namibië, waar hulle 15 jaar gewoon het, na Gansbaai verhuis. Hulle het navorsing gedoen en besluit om die destydse Bayview Discount Furnishers in Desember 1996 te koop, waarna hulle die winkel op 1 Maart 1997 heropen het. “Ons wou graag voortbou op die bestaande wenresep wat die onderneming oor jare heen opgebou het,” het Jan gesê. “Van hierdie bedryf het ons destyds maar min geweet, maar ons moes baie vinnig leer - dit is verseker, maar ons het nogtans 'n goeie bestaan gevoer.”

Hy sê hulle het vroeg besef dat hulle nie al die kennis het nie, maar dat hulle diens kan lewer - en daarvoor het 'n mens nie noodwendig ondervinding nodig nie. Vandaar die besigheid se leuse oor al die jare: ‘Diens is ons besigheid’. Gansbaaiers sal onthou dat dit destyds 'n klein onderneming in Hoofstraat, Gansbaai, was. In 2003 het die egpaar die destydse Mona Lisa-gebou op die hoek van Dirkie Uys- en Fabriekstrate gekoop en daarheen verhuis om groter winkelruimte te verkry.

Volgens Doreen het die ondersteuning van kliënte - van Hermanus tot by Die Damme - hulle deur vele struikelblokke gehelp, insluitend die pandemie-inperkings tydens COVID-19. 'n Groot verskeidenheid elektriese en elektroniese toerusting, te veel om op te noem, is in die winkel beskikbaar. Daarbenewens is daar 'n wye reeks ameublement, beddens, matrasse, yskaste, vrieskaste en stowe om van te kies.

Wat van toekomsplanne?

“Nee wat, ons wil nou net tot ruste kom en die lewensjare wat oor is, geniet,” het Jan gesê. “Ons gaan egter nog minstens 'n jaar besig wees met die finalisering van administratiewe werk nadat ons die besigheid oorgegee het.”

Jan en Doreen dra ook hulle opregte dank en waardering oor aan al hulle getroue kliënte oor baie jare heen. “Sonder kliënte kan daar nie 'n suksesvolle besigheid wees nie, en ons is aan almal van hulle baie dank verskuldig,” het Jan gesê. Die besigheid is aan Stefan Heroldt verkoop, wat op 28 Februarie 2026 deur hom oorgeneem. Stefan, wat sy besigheid S Heroldt in Hermanus bedryf, is 'n jarelange en ervare sakeman. Lees meer oor Stefan en sy planne vir Bayview Discount Furnitures in die volgende uitgawe van die Gans-Berg Nuus.

Gansbaai se Liedjieboer vier 8 dekades

gesellige en spesiale paar dae - "amper gevoel asof my verjaarsdag oor 'n tyd van agt dae gevier word - een vir elke tien jaar!" Hy vertel dat dit 'n pragtige plek is waar hulle was, met hoë bome - "en ek is mos mal oor hoë bome!"

Anton is bykans agt jaar gelede met Estie (née Geldenhuys), 'n onderwyseres by Laerskool Gansbaai, in die huwelik bevestig. "Estie is baie het hy steeds sy getroue Jack Russell, Tau, wat "leeu" beteken.

Anton sê dat dinge vanaf Julie 2026 weer vir hom volstroom aan die gang sal kom, maar hy wou nog nie veel verklap nie. Hy het darem laat glip dat hy na die swierige Fiësta-toekenningsgeleentheid op 22 Maart 2026 in Kampsbaai genooi is, waar hy 'n Fiësta-lewensbydrae-toekening sal ontvang. Die redaksiespan van Gans-Berg Nuis dra ook hul gelukwense aan Anton oor en wens hom alle sterkte toe met sy komende aktiwiteite.

Ja-nee, tyd staan vir niemand stil nie - Gansbaai (en Suid-Afrika!) se Liedjieboer, Anton Goosen, het op 5 Maart 2026 sy 80ste verjaarsdag gevier. 'n Ontspanne Anton, rustig soos altyd in sy huis wat oor Gansbaai-hawe uitkyk, het weer lekker met die Gans-Berg Nuis gesels - nadat hy die bevoorregte lewensmylpaal van 80 jaar bereik het. Sommer so oor ditjies en datjies en toeka-en-hede-dingetjies gesels - altyd 'n voorreg om informeel en weg van die kollig af met die mens, Anton, te kan praat. Oud en gedaan? Allermins - Anton is nog behoorlik aan die gang. "Ek het tans 'n paar ysters in die vuur, maar is op hierdie stadium redelik rustig," het hy gesê. "Ek wil nou eers oor hierdie 80-jarige storie kom!"

"My verjaarsdag het baie hoogtepunte opgelewer, maar een van die grootstes was toe Laerskool Gansbaai se leerders - al 400 van hulle - vir my gesing het. Dit was só spesiaal, en saam met al die gelukwense wat ek ontvang het, was dit alles vir my 'n riem onder die hart," het Anton vertel. Hy sê van sy verjaarsdag af tot Sondag, 8 Maart 2026, het dit maar dol met hom gegaan - "sonder 'n oomblik van stilte, met my skoonma wat behoorlik uitgehang het om my te bederf!"

Anton vertel dat hy "ontvoer" is, sonder om te weet waarheen hulle op pad was. "Ons het toe by Elgin in 'n gastehuis aangekom en Estie het eerste uitgeklim en ek het haar gevolg," vertel hy. "Met die binnestap is ek verras met sowat 30-plus vriende van oraloor wat opgespring en begin sing het - dit was 'n 'knop-in-die-keel'-ervaring vir my!" Hy sê dit was 'n baie

Pernicious: The Road to Le Mans

Natalie-Dominique Louw

Natalie-Dominique Louw.

Action, suspense, danger, and the raw thrill of motor racing - this is the essence of the story in Natalie-Dominique Louw's third book. "And it is hard work to write a book, especially when it comes to accurate research."

Natalie's first book, Battle for Cahir Castle, was self-published. Her second book, The Professor, was published by Malherbe Publishers. Natalie-Dominique Louw, an artist, published writer, poet and avid collector, draws inspiration from life itself - without any doubt a talented lady. Her art is a visual transcription of the subjects and themes that interest her most. Her published works include poetry and short stories, with her first poem appearing in 2001.

Natalie launched her third book, Pernicious: The Road to Le Mans, on Friday evening, 6 March 2026, at Afrikanos. A number of specially invited guests attended the occasion. A warm and convivial atmosphere prevailed, with guests enjoying good company and conversation. Glenda Kitley handled the welcome and introduction. She posed several relevant questions to Natalie, whose answers shed considerable light on herself, her previous book, and the new one. Thereafter Natalie was invited to read an extract from the book to the guests. She chose Chapter 13 and read a captivating passage.

An extract from the book

After putting an end to the ruthless Von Rückstein and his band of misfits, Natalie-Dominique, Jürgen, and their team face an unexpected enemy - boredom. That is, until Natalie-Dominique devises a daring new mission: a hunt across Europe to track down legendary racing machines that once roared through the 24 Hours of Le Mans.

But in Marseilles, the merciless gangster known as Le Chacal has his own obsession - he will stop at nothing to claim every historic racing car for himself. What begins as a passionate quest for history and glory soon turns into a high-stakes battle of grit, courage and speed. As the team races to restore the classics and earn their place in the Le Mans Classics, only one question remains: Will Natalie-Dominique and her crew cross the finish line victorious, or will Le Chacal seize the prize?"

"So who won the prize, Natalie?" one of the guests asked. "Oh, that's easy to find out," she replied with a smile. "Just buy the book and read it!" The evening concluded with champagne and pizzas on the house.

Baie dankie vir eerlikheid

Graag wil ek langs hierdie weg die twee dames wat by Die Markie van Diana en Bennie Marais in die industriële gebied werk, van harte bedank vir hul eerlikheid.

Ek het daar inkopies gedoen en op een of ander wyse my beursie daar verloor of iewers vergeet. Die kontant wat in die beursie was, is eintlik irrelevant in vergelyking met al my bankkaarte, identiteitskaart en bestuurslisensie.

Die twee dames ter sprake, Mariska Cronje en René Aspeling, het my beursie opgemerk nadat ek reeds weg was. Volgens hulle het hulle in die beursie gekyk, gesien dit behoort aan my en my dadelik geskakel. Ek kon my beursie gaan haal, en alles wat daarin was, was steeds daar.

Baie dankie aan julle twee vir julle eerlikheid - dit word opreg waardeer!

From possible closure to new beginning... Gansbaai Nedbank digital branch in full swing

The ceremonial ribbon is cut - Stickz Jonginamba (Branch Manager).

Shortly after the ceremonial opening of Nedbank in Main Road early on Thursday morning, 5 March 2026, the bank was "flooded" by clients and the new team had to work hard to assist everyone. The first "digital" client, Dawie Viljoen, was fortunate enough to arrive while the opening ceremony was still under way. Amid the festivities he was immediately assisted by Michelle Geldenhuys and left as a satisfied customer.

The Gansbaai team, who have committed themselves to providing only the best service to their clients, consists of Stickz Jonginamba (Branch Manager), Sibom Nomandla, Lelanie Pietersen and Zusanne Dreyer. The Gans-Berg News wishes them every success in the digital future of Nedbank Gansbaai. The master of ceremonies, Henk Badenhorst, delivered a short introductory speech before inviting the visiting Nedbank executives to address those present - Lyne George, Ilse Nell, Reshma Sewarthan and Michelle Geldenhuys. After their speeches, Gansbaai Nedbank's Branch Manager, Stickz Jonginamba, was given the opportunity to share a few words.

The Gansbaai team: Sibom Nomandla, Stickz Jonginamba (Branch Manager), Lelanie Pietersen and Zusanne Dreyer.

Michelle Geldenhuys assists the first "digital" client, Dawie Viljoen.

A lively dance to the rhythm of "Klaka-Chakira".

"It is such a joy and honour to stand here with you today as we celebrate this special occasion - not just the opening of a beautifully reimagined branch, but the celebration of hope, perseverance and transformation," said the keynote speaker, Reshma Sewarthan (Regional Manager: Worcester and Overberg). "Just a year ago, we were facing the possibility of closing this very branch - that was a heavy moment for all of us. But today we are standing in a transformed space because the business chose to invest, because we believed in Gansbaai, in this community, and in the people who serve it every single day." Reshma also said that this revamp marks the 12th transformation in the Worcester and Overberg region, and each one reminds them of an important truth: the world is constantly changing. "Digital transformation is moving at incredible speed, and for any business - and even for us as individuals - to remain relevant, we must evolve and adapt," she concluded.

The smaller but neat interior space was beautifully decorated with balloons, while refreshments and cupcakes - naturally iced in green, Nedbank's signature colour - were served. After the formal part of the ceremony, guests and officials had the opportunity to socialise, chat and ask questions.

The changes to Nedbank form part of the Nedbank Group's strategy to make branches smaller but more efficient. This includes the transition from physical services to digital banking. Assurance was given that although the branch has been "downsized", the new digital services will bring significant improvements and make transactions easier. "The bank may be smaller, but there will still be staff available, while the majority of services will transition to digital platforms," Stickz explained.

Minister Aucamp's action restoring hope to small-scale fishing

The Minister of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment, Willie Aucamp.

The decisive intervention by the Minister of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment, Willie Aucamp, to uphold appeals by small-scale fishers and reinstate the 297 traditional linefish vessels that were previously excluded from the sector's allocation was a welcome step. This decision restores certainty for many coastal communities whose livelihoods depend on access to marine resources. After years of administrative dysfunction and broken promises, the ruling signals a shift towards a more responsive, consultative and fair approach to fisheries management.

As expressed by representatives of traditional fishing communities during the Minister's briefing, the reinstatement of the 297 vessels will protect thousands of livelihoods and families dependent on fishing. For many coastal communities, fishing is not merely an economic activity but forms part of a deeply rooted intergenerational identity. By correcting this exclusion while maintaining ecological safeguards, Minister Aucamp has taken an important step towards stabilising the sector and restoring dignity to small-scale fishers.

Minister Aucamp also acted with exceptional urgency, finalising the appeals within approximately two weeks and ensuring that no fisher lost income during the process by allowing them to continue operating under exemption while the appeals were considered. This pragmatic approach protected livelihoods while upholding lawful decision-making.

The Democratic Alliance (DA) welcomed the Minister's finding that computational discrepancies affected the distribution of the West Coast Rock Lobster Total Allowable Catch (TAC) to small-scale cooperatives. His directive that the Department recalculate and correct these allocations ensures that administrative errors do not unfairly disadvantage fishing communities while the process is being finalised. Taken together, these decisions demonstrate that a properly functioning appeals process can correct administrative failures before they inflict serious harm on vulnerable coastal livelihoods.

Minister Aucamp's swift and decisive action will strengthen confidence in the Department and help rebuild trust between government and the fishing communities who rely on the sustainable use of South Africa's marine resources for survival. His actions restore hope to generational fishing communities and begin addressing the administrative failures that left many fishers in uncertainty for years. World Wildlife Day

The Western Cape marked World Wildlife Day on 3 March, a day proclaimed by the United Nations, by reaffirming its commitment to biodiversity protection, climate resilience and sustainable development. CapeNature plays a central role in conserving the province's natural heritage.

As climate change increasingly affects rainfall patterns, ecosystem stability and land use, wildlife conservation has become a critical part of the Western Cape's long-term environmental and economic planning. Through its management of protected areas, biodiversity corridors and priority ecosystems, CapeNature supports water security, wildfire management, tourism and rural livelihoods while safeguarding ecosystems from habitat loss and illegal wildlife trade.

The Western Cape is internationally recognised for its biodiversity hotspots and ecologically sensitive landscapes. CapeNature's work in protecting critical habitats and maintaining ecological connectivity strengthens ecosystem health while supporting climate adaptation, economic stability and social wellbeing.

Conservation efforts are implemented in partnership with municipalities, private landowners, researchers and community organisations. This collaborative approach helps ensure biodiversity protection is integrated into land-use planning and long-term decision-making across the province. Law enforcement also remains a key pillar of wildlife conservation, particularly in the face of increasing climate pressure and the illegal exploitation of natural resources. Effective compliance and enforcement help protect vulnerable species, prevent environmental degradation and ensure conservation gains are not undermined by illegal activities.

"Climate change is no longer a future risk - it is already shaping how we manage water, land and ecosystems in the Western Cape," said Dr Ashley Naidoo, CEO of CapeNature. "Through the conservation and management of priority biodiversity areas, ecological corridors and protected landscapes, CapeNature is working to safeguard water catchments and strengthen the natural systems that underpin livelihoods, food security and tourism across the province."

"Protecting wildlife and conserving biodiversity are key parts of the Western Cape Government's Growth for Jobs Strategy and One Health Approach," said Anton Bredell, Minister of Local Government, Environmental Affairs and Development Planning. "This includes maintaining ecological infrastructure, protecting biodiversity, ensuring environmental quality and strengthening climate resilience to sustain our economy, environment and communities." Waar Tannie Flippie stap, word daar gesels

Tannie Flippie Pieterse (82).

“Ek stap vandag straat-af met vars seelug in my hare en die reuk van vis by die hawe,” lui 'n onlangse inskrywing op Wie maak vir Gansbaai lekker. “Daar ontmoet ek toe vir Tannie Flippie Pieterse wat graag stories van kindwees vertel.” Die Gans-Berg Nuis het al verskeie kere by hierdie vriendelike mense-mens, Tannie Flippie (82), met die klein hartjie gaan kuier - en kan dus die opgewondenheid van die inskrywing verstaan. Om haar raak te loop beteken net een ding: daar gaan gesels word.

“Jan-nee, ek lees toe die inskrywing en was baie verbaas, want vir my was dit net weer 'n onverwagse en lekker geselsie met 'n 'vreemdeling' wat my so vriendelik genader het,” het Flippie die Gans-Berg Nuis meegedeel. “En dit is sommer lekker om jou (joernalis) ook weer te sien en met jou te gesels!” voeg sy in dieselfde asem by. “Jy het seker gewonder waarom ek jou nie oor my jaarlikse Valentynsdag-partytjie vir die kindertjies geskakel het nie? Ek het nie vanjaar een gehou nie.” Sy sê sy was vanjaar self na 'n Valentynsfunksie genooi en sal eersdaags weer iets vir die kinders aanbied.

Vir die afgelope drie jaar het Flippie elke jaar op Valentynsdag 'n partytjie vir die kinders aangebied. Haar liefingdogter, Allesca, is 'n dag voor Valentynsdag, op 13 Februarie 2012, oorlede. Van toe af nooi sy gereeld kinders op Valentynsdag vir lekkergoed, chippies en dies meer - maar hulle moet eers luister wat moederliefde is, hoe om 'n moeder te waardeer en na 'n kort boodskap uit die Woord luister - dis Tannie Flippie.

Die 82-jarige Flippie is 'n boorling van Gansbaai - sy is op 15 November 1944 by die destydse Gansbaai Nettebane gebore. “Ons was twaalf kinders, waarvan twee 'n tweeling is,” vertel sy. Vanwaar die seunsnaam, Flippie? “Gedurende my kinderjare moes ons altyd deur die dorp loop, vir watter rede ook al. Dan het die kwajonges ons gereeld gepla en selfs geslaan. Net daar het ek besluit ek is klaar met meisie-maatjies en het net altyd 'n klomp seuns om my gehad vir beskerming deur die dorp - en vandaar die bynaam 'Flippie'.”

Sy en haar eggenoot, Daniël Pieterse, is op 29 November 1964 getroud, maar hy is enkele jare gelede oorlede. Haar gesondheid is nog baie goed, en sy voeg met die tong in die kies by: “Ek is ouer as my tande, maar net so oud soos my hande!” “Ons het al die jare letterlik uit die see gelewe, en my oorblywende kinders is net so lief vir die see.” Flippie se latere jare het op welsynswerk gefokus, selfs met konserte wat sy ten bate van die Silwerjare Dienssentrum aangebied het. Sy was - en is steeds - 'n aktiewe gemeenskapsmens en het ook al 'n sopkombuis behartig, waar sy soms uit haar eie sak moes betaal wanneer fondse nog nie beskikbaar was nie.

Op 82-jarige ouderdom is sy steeds by baie liefdadigheidswerk betrokke. Flippie was haar lewe lank baie lief vir werk en het nooit teruggestaan dat ander die werk doen nie. “En die een ding wat die lewe my geleer het, is dat die mens se teleurstelling God se bestelling is,” vertel sy met oë wat vol tranes skiet. “As daar een ding is wat ek van myself kan sê, dan is dit dat ek nog nooit 'n mens was wat 'n klip in 'n medemens se pad gerol het nie - ek het my lewe lank klippe uit ander se paaie gerol.” Nou ja, 'n mense-mens met 'n ryke geskiedenis, 'n helder verstand en iemand wat vir ure oor toeka se tye kan gesels.

In-CRAB-nito mode!

Flower crab spiders (Thomisus sp.) are masters of disguise! This spider has the incredible ability to change its colour to match the flower they are sitting on. The colour change takes about 1 - 2 days to occur, and once complete, the spider will sit on a flower head, ready to ambush a flower-visiting insect. They use their powerful front legs to grab unsuspecting prey. This crab spider was spotted in Cyrtanthus leucanthus, an Endangered endemic which popped up in the burnt areas of the reserve shortly after fire.

Gansbaai Mark blaas agt kerse uit

Betrokkes by Gansbaai Mark vanaf dag een: Elize Burger, Glenda Kitley (organiseerder), Fifi en Duke Amien en Bernie Mangiagalli.

"Nou-ja, Glenda, hier is Gansbaai Toerisme se grond en strukture vir julle beplande Gansbaai Mark," het Kat Myburgh, voormalige areabestuurder van die Gansbaai Munisipaliteit, sowat agt jaar gelede tydens die oorhandiging van die grond en strukture vir 'n Gansbaai Mark gesê, met Grootbos Foundation wat ook by die proses betrokke was. "Ek hoop maar net vir julle part dit gaan werk!" Nou-ja, Kat - duidelik hét dit gewerk! Onder leiding van Glenda Kitley het Gansbaai Mark oor die afgelope agt jaar net van krag tot krag gegroei.

Fire Mkubu van die begin af met groente.

Louwtjie de Witt - Gansbaai Mark se Musieksfabriek vir 6 van die 8 jaar.

Saterdag, 7 Maart 2026, was dit Gansbaai Mark agter die munisipale kantore se trotse 8ste verjaarsdagviering. 'n Yslike verjaarsdagkoek is in blokkies gesny en besoekers kon heerlik daaraan smul - ter viering van agt suksesvolle jare. Die Gans-Berg Nuis wens vir Glenda en die gereelde uitstallers baie geluk met die mylpaal wat bereik is en bedank hulle vir die lekkernye en handgemaakte items wat altyd daar beskikbaar is.

Die Gans-Berg Nuis het ook 'n paar stalletjiehouers raakgeloop wat reeds van dag een af by die mark betrokke was: Elize Burger, Fifi en Duke Amien, Bernie Mangiagalli en Fire Mkubu. Ons het ook met Louwtjie de Witt gesels, wat die afgelope ses jaar met sy Musieksfabriek vir lekker op-en-wakker musiek sorg. Doen so voort, Glenda en stalletjiehouers - Gansbaai Mark is en bly 'n gewilde besoekpunt, ook vir toeriste.

Foot-and-Mouth Crisis - No suspected cases in Overberg

The Provincial Foot-and-Mouth Disease Joint Operations Centre (JOC) functions as a structured joint operational platform under the leadership of the Western Cape Department of Agriculture Veterinary Services. Agri Western Cape, in collaboration with the Western Cape Provincial Disaster Management Centre, is responsible for administering the FMD JOC to ensure that all stakeholders in the province are informed and work together in a coordinated and structured manner.

Vaccination Progress and Availability

*Over 12,000 vaccinations have already been administered; *The Western Cape will receive 30,000 vaccines from the one million that arrived in South Africa over the past weekend; *Vaccines are used exclusively for emergency vaccinations within the designated biosecurity zones.

District Municipality feedback

In the Cape Metro, vaccinations have been carried out in Nyanga, Kalkfontein and Mfuleni. Makhaza remains under quarantine. In Phesantekraal, 372 animals have been vaccinated. Informal livestock farmers are cooperating well with authorities. State veterinarians are accompanied by officials, while law enforcement officers are actively involved in raising awareness and educating livestock owners. Vaccinations have already taken place in Klappmuts in the Cape Winelands. Surrounding farms are being vaccinated based on risk analysis and the availability of vaccines from the Western Cape Department of Agriculture Veterinary Services. In the Garden Route, state veterinarians vaccinated approximately 7,500 animals in informal settlements over the past weekend. All control and checkpoint measures remain in place but are being strategically relocated as the 10 km radius around the index farm has expanded. Cooperation from informal farming communities has been positive, and increased awareness is showing clear results.

In Mossel Bay, law enforcement and producers from surrounding farms have implemented disinfection points to further strengthen biosecurity. No suspected cases have been reported in the Central Karoo and Overberg regions. Agri Western Cape urges producers to strictly implement biosecurity measures, not to move animals without proper documentation, and to immediately report any suspicious symptoms to their nearest state veterinarian. Further updates will be communicated as new information becomes available.

Joint Task Team welcomes Judgement, continues with Baboon Action Plan

On 25 February 2026, the Western Cape High Court dismissed an application brought by the Liberty Fighters Network and Reyno de Beer to interdict the Cape Peninsula Baboon Management Joint Task Team (CPBMJTT) from executing key aspects of the Action Plan, which details the practical implementation of the Cape Peninsula Baboon Strategic Management Plan. The matter was argued in court on Thursday, 19 February 2026.

The judgment began by stating that "litigation is not a game" and that the litigants appeared "intent on treating our courts as a playground". The court found that the application "is fatally flawed"; that it "has been brought by applicants who have no standing in terms of section 38 of the Constitution"; that the applicants failed to convince the court that they were acting "in the public interest"; that they "failed to set out what rights they seek to protect with an interdict"; and that it was an "abuse of process in bringing this application in the urgent court in the manner in which it did".

The court affirmed the three authorities' constitutional and statutory mandate to work together and confirmed that the authorities have the legal standing and authority to give effect to the Baboon Strategic Management Plan and the Action Plan. The parties are still to file written submissions on whether costs should be awarded on a punitive scale. The Action Plan was approved by SANParks, CapeNature, and the City of Cape Town in November 2025. The CPBMJTT remains committed to implementing the plan in the interest of establishing a healthy, well-managed, sustainable, free-ranging baboon population, with minimal human interference, overlap, and conflict, and a reduction in day-to-day aversive measures.

The plan is based on the principles that baboons are a valuable and integral part of the natural ecology and biodiversity of the Cape Peninsula, and that free-ranging baboons living in natural habitats form part of our collective biodiversity and cultural heritage. The free-ranging baboon population is deserving of conservation and active wildlife management interventions to promote its health, welfare, and sustainability. There is a limit, however, to the number of free-ranging baboons the Peninsula can sustain in terms of natural ecology, baboon health and welfare, and management resources. As such, the baboon population on the Peninsula requires ongoing management. Baboons that spend time in urban areas experience poor health and welfare outcomes. This results in habituation, changes in diet and feeding patterns, behavioural changes, shifts in troop dynamics, increased human- and urban-induced injuries and deaths, and a greater risk of zoonotic diseases spreading.

Baboons should not live in or utilise agricultural or urban areas. While overlap may occur at the edges of these areas, the management priority is to minimise the amount of time baboons spend in human-dominated environments and to prevent further habituation. The Action Plan will be regularly reviewed to ensure that the actions, assessments, and outcomes remain aligned with regulatory requirements, strategic direction, emerging trends, and new knowledge. The next formal review will take place in 2030.

'Terug in my ouers se voetspore langs die see'

“Dis lekker om die goeie tye te onthou - dit lê my baie na aan die hart.” Sô skryf Colleen Fuller (née Human) aan die Gans-Berg Nuis - woorde wat swaar dra aan verlange, dankbaarheid en liefde vir 'n dorp wat diep in haar siel ingeweeft is. As kind het hulle wonderlike vakansies in Gansbaai en omliggende gebiede deurgebring.

Haar pa, Rusty Fuller, het by Ysterplaat Air Force Base gewerk, wat dit maklik gemaak het om na Gansbaai te ontsnap. Wat vir ander net 'n vakansiedorp was, het vir haar 'n tweede tuiste geword. Hulle het 'n ingeboude “bokskaravaan” by Kleinbaai gehad - voordat die hawe nog gebou is. In daardie dae het vakansiehuse nog hoog bo die see gestaan en het die wêreld eenvoudiger gevoel. Sy onthou hoe sy as kind op die hawemure gestaan en die grootwithaie dopgehou het - verwonderd oor die krag en misterie van die see. Sy sien nog die tannies met hul Voortrekkerkappies voor haar: vinnige hande wat vis met vaardigheid en trots skoonmaak. “En, jong, was hulle vinnig en doeltreffend!” onthou sy met 'n glimlag.

Selfs die ruwe werklikheid van haaie wat ingebring is - vinne afgesny en lewers wat vir olie verwerk is - is deel van haar herinneringe. “Ons het selfs haabilotong geëet,” vertel sy - herinneringe wat vandag soos sout op die vel bly sit. Daar was dae toe die water silwer geblink het van die harders wat sy van die ou hawemuur af gevang het. Haar pa het graag by Die Gruis, naby Pearly Beach, gaan visvang - en daar was altyd genoeg om met ander te deel. Hy het sy bloedwurm in spesiale vismandjies gebêre, gemaak deur 'n ou man met 'n viswinkel in Hoofstraat. Vandag hou sy daardie mandjies steeds - tasbare stukkes van 'n pa se nalatenskap.

Hulle kinderdage was gevul met swem in die grotte van De Kelders, terwyl hul ouers bo by die destydse hotel ietsie gedrink het. Die hotel is lankal gesloop, maar in haar geheue staan dit nog trots bokant die see. En as bonus - die warm melktert van die bakkerij agter Hoofstraat, vars uit die oond. Die geur, die smaak, die eenvoud van geluk. Langs die strand het sy suurvytjies opgetel, waarvoor sy baie lief is - 'n liefde wat sy nooit ontgroeit het nie. Daar was vars kreef en perlemoen uit die see, kampdae by Pearly Beach en Uilenkraalsmond, boeresport en ure se lag in die strandmeer saam met haar suster, niggies en neefs. Mettertyd het sy haar eie kinders ook Gansbaai toe gebring. Vandag is hulle groot, getroud en het hul eie kinders - maar die liefde vir “Goose Bay” leef voort. Sô word herinneringe erfenis.

My Pa het vis gevang op die Gry's Pearly Beach

Lynette Chadwick en my Pa visvang op die Gry's

'n Oom het in Gansbaai jare terug die aas mandjies gemaak om rooi aas in te bêre

Een van haar kosbaarste beelde is die dae toe die hele dorp stilgestaan het wanneer die Ganse (pelagiese vissersbote) see toe moes gaan, met mense wat 'n seën oor die bote uitgespreek het vir 'n goeie visvangjaar - 'n tradisie wat vandag nog met Gansbaai se Vissermansdienste voortleef. Dit was dae van gemeenskap, geloof en hoop.

“Wanneer ek in Gansbaai gaan kuier,” skryf sy, “stap ek gereeld op die strand, praat met my ouers en sê ek is terug - ek loop weer in julle voetspore.” En dalk is dit wat 'n tuiste werklik is: 'n plek waar jou mense altyd nog saam met jou stap, waar die see jou naam ken en waar herinneringe nooit ophou branders rol nie.
