Pearly Beach Conservancy

The beautiful setting of Pearly Beach, integrated with nature, inspires us to conserve, protect and restore it for the good of us all.

Our objectives:

To promote the protection of our endangered dune Strandveld and small pockets of limestone fynbos, its fynbos fauna, insects, pollinators and birds.

To promote nature conservation on private land by encouraging indigenous gardens.

To preserve the ecological infrastructure and functioning of our frontal dune system and inland support areas.

To cooperate with local government and present options for achieving conservation and development goals.

To rid our fynbos of invader trees and plants.

To evaluate and give sound comment to authorities on new developments in our area.

To nurture, educate and work together to enjoy the splendour nature has to offer us.

Our activities:

Alien clearing, herbarium fynbos garden, beach clean-ups, nature education and swop shop, identifying fynbos flowers, promoting indigenous gardens, fundraiser events, conservation projects, comment on environmental assessments of new developments, membership drive, administration
