

Coastal Explorer: Whale Watching & Cave Hunting Adventure

1 x Nights Accommodation, 1x Whale Watching Boat Cruise, 1 x Guided Hike, exploring 3 Caves, Saturday night dinner & Sunday Breakfast.

As South Africans we hardly get the opportunity to see our own natural wonders. Now finally this is a weekend getaway tailored for us. Spend the weekend with WILDcape and Ivanhoe Sea Safaris to explore coastal caves and go on boat cruise in search of one of the biggest mammals on earth...the Southern Right Whale.

Whale Watching Boat Cruise

Ivanhoe Sea Safaris is a small, family run whale watching business based in Gansbaai South Africa. They watch whales in the beautiful Walker Bay, which boasts some of the highest numbers of Southern Right Whales along the South African coastline. They pride themselves in providing personalized service, keeping their tours small and above all, respecting our whales.

We set out to sea for two hours and focus mostly on spending time with our gentle giants, though we do stop for seals, penguins, dolphins and other marine life too. Ivanhoe contributes whale skin samples to Petra Neveceralova's Southern Right Whale Conservation genetics study and will willingly contribute any research done on board to science and conservation.

Caving Adventure:

This will be totally different from your normal hike. We will be taking a beautiful coastline hike with ocean views and coastal fynbos but our aim will be to explore the caves of Gansbaai. There are a total of 3 unique caves. The most famous and also the largest cave, is called Klipgat cave, that was once inhabited by earlier humans. WILDcape has also gained special access to a private cave where we will be able to take a dip in the underground natural pool. This cave is a fresh water pool, a stone throw away from the ocean! How cool does that sound!

Accommodation: Saxon Lodge

They also have their famous and popular Saxon Arms, residents-only, fully stocked bar, specialising in local wines and craft beers. The Saxon Restaurant famous for its scrumptious meals and seasonal board menu, is open by arrangement for dinner and occasionally on Caron's culinary whim.
